

Alarm

Spark

Burn

Smash

Interested?

A home safety education program

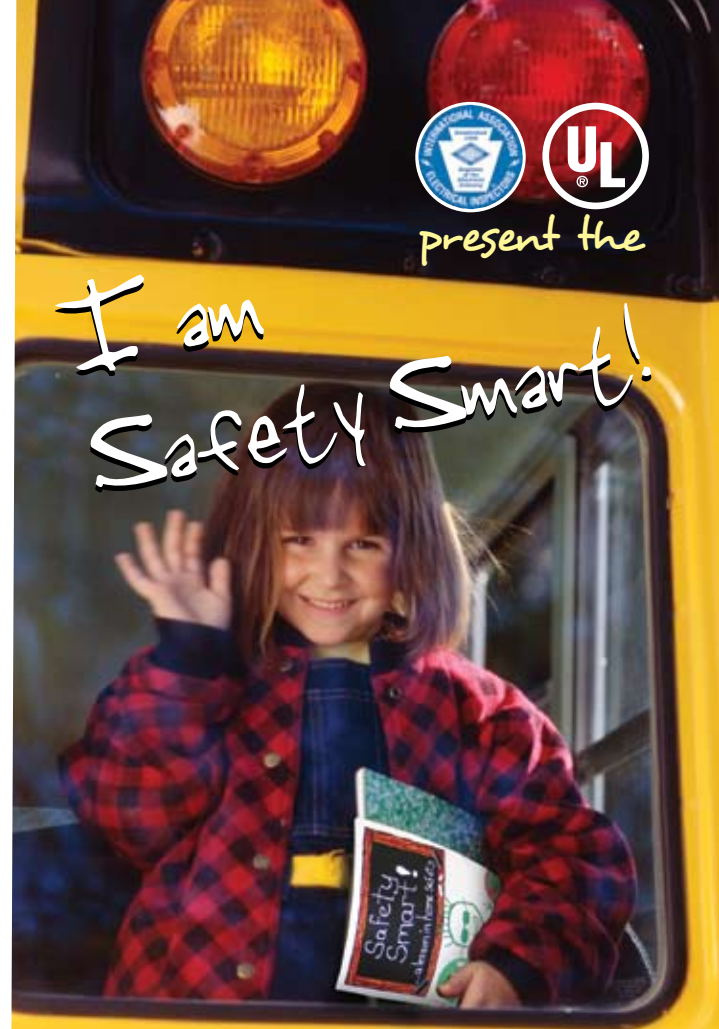

Join IAEI and UL in working together for a safer world. Together we will have a lasting and positive impact on preventing unintentional injuries and their consequences.

International Association of Electrical Inspectors (IAEI) and Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL), both not-for-profit organizations, have a combined 188 years dedicated to public safety.

For further information, write:

I am Safety Smart!

International Association of Electrical Inspectors
901 Waterfall Way, Suite 602
Richardson, TX 75080-7702
972-235-1455
iaei@iaei.org

IAEI and UL present the

I am Safety Smart!

Home Safety Education Program

Safe behavior does not just happen. It is learned when it is shared and practiced. I am Safety Smart! is designed to support educators nationwide in teaching safety-conscious behavior. Professionally trained electrical inspectors will share Safety Smart lessons with children 4 to 14 years old and help them develop life safety skills.

Program Description
The program has two modules:

K through 3rd grades and 4th through 8th grades

• Ages 5 through 8 (K-3rd grade)

Spike, a cartoon character, introduces 7 important home safety lessons. Activities such as crossword puzzles, word searches, and word scrambles will play a dominant role in instruction. Children are congratulated for their safe behavior with Safety Smart certificates. "Leave-behind" articles include: pen, magnets, rulers, red safety awareness bands, bouncy ball, etc.

• Ages 10 through 14 (Grades 4 - 8)

Hands-on experiments demonstrate safety lessons. Activities include drop tests on portable hand-held grooming appliances, a race to change smoke alarm batteries, learning and practicing the fire extinguisher PASS [pull, aim, squeeze, sweep] method, testing a ground-fault circuit interrupter, and learning about the flow of electricity in a circuit. Children earn a red safety awareness band and are encouraged to wear it to school every day with "Working together for a safer world" showing; whenever they practice one of the safety rules, they turn the band over to read,

I am Safety Smart!

- Empowers children to make better, more informed safety choices and decisions today and in the future
- Cultivates safety-consciousness
- Provides the opportunity to learn and practice safe behaviors
- Equips children to handle safety decisions

I am Safety Smart!

